Business Report

Dear shareholders,

Market Environment

2025 has been an exceptionally challenging year for Flytech. In the face of a rapidly shifting international landscape, we have consistently adopted a prudent yet proactive approach to navigate uncertainties and market volatility. The early-year introduction of US reciprocal tariff policies, followed by the sharp appreciation of the New Taiwan dollar in the second quarter, posed direct challenges to our export competitiveness and margins. In the second half of the year, global tech giants accelerated investments in AI infrastructure, leading to a reallocation of supply chain resources. This surge increased the costs of upstream materials and critical components, once again presenting the IPC industry with the challenge of supply constraints.

At the same time, we also saw new growth opportunities emerge. As edge computing, Vision AI, and related applications moved further into real-world deployment, demand for integrated solutions continued to grow across retail, hospitality, industrial automation, and the medical sector. Flytech will continue to strengthen its core competencies through R&D and ongoing product innovation.

Financial Performance

In 2025, Flytech reported consolidated revenue of NT$5.033 billion, gross profit of more than NT$2.2 billion, a record operating margin of 25%, and earnings per share of NT$6.90. These results reflect the progress we have made in optimizing our customer mix, deepening vertical application deployment, and improving operating efficiency.

In our core business, we continued to increase product penetration among existing customers while expanding into new markets. Supported by our strengths in in-house R&D, manufacturing, and design innovation, we launched a new-generation product featuring the world's narrowest touch bezel technology, further strengthening our competitiveness in global markets. In software, our three subsidiaries, Berry AI, Inefi, and Angible, also made solid progress. Their combined annual revenue contribution exceeded NT$100 million for the first time, demonstrating strong momentum in recurring revenue growth and laying the foundation for our second growth engine.

Strategy and Execution

With AI adoption accelerating in real-world applications, end markets are showing rising demand for edge computing capabilities and intelligent decision-making. In 2026, Flytech will move forward under the strategic theme of "Redefine Endpoint Value" and continue to deepen its strategy of highly integrated hardware and AI-enabled software. Our goal is to transform endpoints from standalone hardware devices into intelligent nodes with edge computing capabilities that connect payment flows, information flows, and decision flows, helping customers improve efficiency and operating performance.

We will focus on two priorities: scalable deployment and real-time computing and recognition. At the same time, we will continue increasing the share of recurring software revenue in our business mix. This will support Flytech's transition from a hardware supplier to a solutions and services provider, enhance service quality and value creation, and deliver more stable long-term returns to shareholders.

Sustainability and Regulatory Environment

Flytech Technology is dedicated to robust ESG governance and risk management. Guided by GRI, SASB, and TCFD frameworks, we consistently publish sustainability reports and conduct annual carbon verification, and our 2025 organizational-level carbon inventory is complete. We are committed to delivering “Safety, Environmental Protection, and Sustainability” products by tracking carbon footprints and integrating recycled materials to meet our customers' low carbon supply chain requirements.

Looking Ahead

Flytech will continue to strengthen supply chain responsiveness, product delivery quality, and talent development. We remain committed to our customers, employees, and shareholders, and will continue to enhance corporate value and global competitiveness while delivering long-term, stable, and sustainable returns.

May you all have a wonderful year of 2026

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd.:

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries, which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and with the International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs"), International Accounting Standards ("IASs"), Interpretations developed by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee ("IFRIC") or the former Standing Interpretations Committee ("SIC") endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis of our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries' consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025 are stated as follows:

1. Revenue recognition

Please refer to Note 4(o) for accounting policy on revenue recognition and Note 6(t) for related disclosures of revenue recognition, respectively, to the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Description of key audit matter:

Revenue is recognized based on the various trade terms agreed with customers. This exposes Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries to the risk that the sales transactions made close to the balance sheet date are not recorded in the appropriate period. Consequently, the revenue recognition has been identified as one of the key audit matters.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

In relation to the key audit matter above, our principal audit procedures included understanding the types of revenue, contract provisions and trade terms to assess the accuracy of the timing of revenue recognition; assessing whether revenue is recognized based on the trade terms with customers through testing the design and operating effectiveness of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries' internal controls over financial reporting on sales and collection cycle and reviewing the related trade documents; and performing a sample test on the sales transactions that took place before and after the balance sheet date to determine when the performance obligation has been satisfied by transferring control over the goods to a customer to assess the accuracy of the timing of revenue recognition.

Other Matter

Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. has additionally prepared its parent-company-only financial statements as of and for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, on which we have issued an unmodified audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and with the IFRSs, IASs, IFRIC, SIC endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries' ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including the Audit Committee) are responsible for overseeing Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries' financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries' internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries' ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identified during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Hsu, Shih-Chun and Chang, Huei-Chen.

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd.:

We have audited the parent-company-only financial statements of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd., which comprise the parent-company-only balance sheets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the parent-company-only statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the parent-company-only financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying parent-company-only financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent-Company-Only Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis of our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the parent-company-only financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of parent-company-only financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for Flytech Technology Co., Ltd.'s parent-company-only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025 are stated as follows:

1. Revenue recognition

Please refer to Note 4(n) for accounting policy on revenue recognition and Note 6(o) for related disclosures of revenue recognition, respectively, to the notes to the parent-company-only financial statements.

Description of key audit matter:

Revenue is recognized based on the various trade terms agreed with customers. This exposes Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. to the risk that the sales transactions made close to the balance sheet date are not recorded in the appropriate period. Consequently, the revenue recognition has been identified as one of the key audit matters.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

In relation to the key audit matter above, our principal audit procedures included understanding the types of revenue, contract provisions and trade terms to assess the accuracy of the timing of revenue recognition; assessing whether revenue is recognized based on the trade terms with customers through testing the design and operating effectiveness of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd.'s internal controls over financial reporting on sales and collection cycle and reviewing the related trade documents; and performing a sample test on the sales transactions that took place before and after the balance sheet date to determine when the performance obligation has been satisfied by transferring control over the goods to a customer to assess the accuracy of the timing of revenue recognition.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Parent-Company-Only Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the parent-company-only financial statements in accordance with Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of parent-company-only financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the parent-company-only financial statements, management is responsible for assessing Flytech Technology Co., Ltd.'s ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including the Audit Committee) are responsible for overseeing Flytech Technology Co., Ltd.'s financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent-Company-Only Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent-company-only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent-company-only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent-company-only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Flytech Technology Co., Ltd.'s internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on Flytech Technology Co., Ltd.'s ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the parent-company-only financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause Flytech Technology Co., Ltd. to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent-company-only financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the investment in other entities accounted for using equity method to express an opinion on these parent-company-only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit. We remained solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicated with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identified during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determined those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent-company-only financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We described these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determined that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Hsu, Shih-Chun and Chang, Huei-Chen.
